Last Fall, Trillium Health Partners announced the new Women's and Children's Hospital to be built within the previously announced Peter Gilgan Mississauga Hospital. In preparation for this transition, beginning in 2025, all Women's and Children's services, including labour and delivery, neonatal intensive care unit (NICU), and other gynecological and reproductive health services, will be centralized at the Credit Valley Hospital site until the new hospital is complete. This integration will support a one patient and one provider experience within a comprehensive system of care in advance of the new hospital opening.

Trillium Health Partners is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to integrating antiracism, diversity, equity and inclusion best practices throughout THP operations, policies and culture.

Interested candidates are encouraged to apply with a cover letter and curriculum vitae to:
