

Greetings from Nunavut! The small but determined group of midwives working in Rankin Inlet, Nunavut are putting the call out to our colleagues in the south. We are offering 4-8-week contracts with some flexibility starting immediately.

Rankin Inlet is a community of 2,800 people with easy access to both the tundra and the bay. We are host to amazing northern lights, incredible full moon evenings, lots of snow and renowned winter weather. To balance the long winter nights, spring and summer bring almost 24 hours daylight, migrating birds, caribou and beautiful wild flowers.

The birthing centre has been providing been providing antenatal, intrapartum, postpartum and newborn care to the women from Rankin Inlet since 1993. Also, offering low risk births to the women from the 7 outlying communities in the Kivalliq Region. Transfer and consultation takes place with obstetricians in Winnipeg and GPs in Iqaluit.

Since COVID times we have taken on triaging place of birth for prenatal women from the 7 outlying communities with almost all low risk women are now birthing in Rankin Inlet, medium risk in Iqaluit (capital of Nunavut) and high risk to Winnipeg.
