

We are currently recruiting

The midwives of Chatham-Kent are presently recruiting one locum midwife to cover a one-year parental leave beginning in May 2022. This position offers the option of a full time caseload with 9 weeks holidays and regular weekends off call, or shared care / half time option, depending on preference.

Our clinic is a thriving practice with extended scope and has had the honour of providing services to the residents of Southwestern Ontario's beautiful and vibrant Chatham-Kent for over two decades. Most midwives in our group work under a primary care model and monitor their own epidurals and oxytocin. Our practice has a solid working relationship with local hospital staff, family physicians, OBs and pediatricians. The catchment area includes agricultural, quaint towns, waterfront communities, and urban centres.

Candidates need to be:

- General registrant, legally able to work in Ontario.
- Fully vaccinated
- Licenced to drive in Ontario and have their own vehicle.
- Registered with, and in good standing with, the College of Midwives.
- Strong written and oral English communication skills and able to work in a team based environment.
- Experience in providing care for a diverse population of families.
- Highly responsible, independent and able to be on call.

Position conditional on being granted privileges at the Chatham-Kent Health Alliance, and passing a police check.

Remuneration and holidays will be discussed with selected candidates.

Living in Chatham

Chatham hosts a world class theatre, state of the art family recreation facilities, and challenging golf courses. Nestled between Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie, there are endless opportunities to enjoy a diverse assortment of water sports like swimming, kayaking, scuba-diving, kite sailing and sailing. The lakes also provide year round access to fresh water fishing whether it be from shore or off a boat. Numerous provincial parks are within an hour's drive, including the beautiful and pristine Rondeau Park, known as one of Canada's largest Carolinian forests, and home to rare and endangered birds and animals.

Chatham-Kent's rich agricultural and automotive ties provide experiences like nowhere else. Worldly renowned Classic car attractions give visitors rare opportunity to view luxury and exclusivity. Chatham-Kent celebrates four seasons of culture with galleries, theatre and family-themed attractions located in its many quaint towns, urban centres, rural and waterfront communities. From its fascinating historic treasures to its natural wonders and man-made creations, Chatham-Kent is a great place to live, and a wonderful place to raise a family; Chatham Kent boasts some of the most affordable housing in Ontario.

Buying a house, renting an apartment and paying property taxes cost you less here and are far below the prices in larger urban cities. Our location in the middle of Southwestern Ontario also means that everyday needs such as clothing, food and other basics are cheap and plentiful. In addition to the excellent provincial public and separate educational systems that offer schooling in English, French and French Immersion, there are two private elementary and secondary schools in Chatham. The Chatham campus of St. Clair College and the University of Guelph – Ridgetown Campus make adult and continuing education easy to access.
