

TERRITORIAL MANAGER, MIDWIFERY OPPORTUNITY

Job ID:	27947
Salary:	$127,238 - $152,003 plus $23,700 – $25,500 in paid benefits in the first year
Employment Type:	FT Temporary, Term until January 14th, 2028
Closing Date:	June 25, 2026

Trade traffic lights for northern lights and redefine midwifery leadership. Lead birth, shape a territory, and build a Midwifery program across the Northwest Territories.

As Territorial Manager, Midwifery, you guide a program that spans 1.2 million square kilometers and touches every stage of the perinatal journey.

Morning light spills across the boreal horizon as you step into a role that stretches far beyond a single clinic. You are both clinician and architect. One moment you are supporting your team member to help an expecting mother give birth, the next you are shaping policy, mentoring midwives, and steering strategy that strengthens maternal and newborn outcomes across diverse northern communities. You lead with cultural humility, grounding modern care in relationships and respect for Indigenous culture and tradition. You set standards, oversee quality, and collaborate with interdisciplinary teams to ensure care is safe.

You influence territorial strategy, manage a dedicated team, and guide a $2.5M program while continuing to practice clinically. Your leadership drives expansion, integration, and innovation in midwifery services.

In return, you gain a rare breadth of experience, strong compensation, generous leave, and relocation support that makes the move north seamless.

Yellowknife greets you with a sky that moves and breathes. Winter nights crackle with aurora, green ribbons dancing above a silent lake. Summer stretches long and golden, where evenings linger and the sun refuses to rush away. You can leave your office and, five minutes later, cast a line, hike granite ridges, or meet friends at a local fish fry. Festivals spill into the streets, drums echo, laughter carries across the water. Markets hum with northern flavors, stories, and handmade craft. Here, community feels close, the land feels alive, and every day invites you to step outside and belong.
