About the Work

The Registered Midwife is a member of the Midwifery Program team. As an autonomous practitioner, the Midwife is identified as the most responsible provider for a case load of clients and works collaboratively with other practitioners and healthcare providers.

The Midwife functions in association with interdisciplinary primary health teams in their community and within an integrated territorial women and children's health team. The position provides continuity of care within the context of a small team of midwives and ensures coordinated delivery of care within an integrated network of community, regional, and territorial health services.

Typically, these positions require a bachelor's degree in Midwifery (Health Sciences), or assessed through a Prior Learning and Experience Assessment (PLEA) program within a Canadian province, with a minimum of two (2) years' experience in delivering midwifery care as a primary care provider.

Why the Northwest Territories?

Located above the 60th parallel, the Northwest Territories awaits with seemingly endless lakes and unmatched vistas. The opportunities available in our communities are perfect for the outdoors enthusiast looking for adventure, a healthy work/life balance, and an escape from the hustle of the big city.

All 33 NWT communities are surrounded by wilderness and water where swimming and fishing are abundant - whether it's a river, lake, or the Arctic Ocean. Northerners enjoy year-round outdoor activities ranging from canoeing and camping in the summer to pond hockey and cross-country skiing in the winter. NWT residents enjoy some of the shortest commutes in Canada - often no more than five to 10 minutes walking, biking, or driving. In the summer, we enjoy up to 24 hours of sunlight.
