Background:

- Thames Valley Midwives is a mixed urban-rural practice situated in a beautifully restored heritage building in Old East Village, London. Our clinic uses Accuro EMR and has a fantastic admin team.
- Our catchment area is committed to providing exceptional care to a wide variety of groups, which include a largely ethnically diverse population with plenty of newcomers, as well as Old Order Amish, low-German Mennonite and First Nations populations in our rural regions. We offer our clients two satellite clinics in Elgin and Oxford. Our wait list is extensive. We also love home birth, with around a 22% home birth rate.
- Our hospitals - We are a full-scope practice, which has privileges at both a Level 1 and Level 3 hospital with supportive staff at each site and our own Midwifery Department. Other opportunities include an Early Pregnancy Discharge Program, where some of our midwives enjoy doing postpartum home visits for our OB colleagues!

Our fantastic call schedule means you won't ever work longer than 72 hours on-call during a long weekend only, and no more than 48 hours during the week. We complete two days of clinic per week with protected evenings off-call. We do offer opportunities for other models within our teams based on availability.
- Our team appreciates and strives to create a manageable work/life balance, while still continuing to provide excellent continuity of care to our clients.
- For the right candidates, opportunities in the future will include partnership positions.

Why move to London:

- We are centrally located in a mid-sized city surrounded by countryside, close to the beaches of two Great Lakes, home to the renowned Western University and Fanshawe College as well as having our own airport making travel easy to jet off down south during our snowy months.

- Raising a family? No problem. London has excellent public and private schools as well as fantastic neighbourhoods to raise your little ones. There are so many activities to do with your children throughout all seasons.
